The question of economical methods, obtaining the largest output with the smallest expenditure of power, the methods of "attack," timber ing, concentrating and many other subjects demand the careful at tention of men who can deal with those problems. Any of us can sink and timber a shaft; the mining engineer is the man who does it quicker, better and cheaper than we do.

> What Marion does not need is a boom. The property owners can not afford to demand exorbitant prices for land, because mining companies can not afford too high a price; they put all of their mo ney into the mine usually before ever gaining a cent in return, and they must purchase property at less value than the estimated ore contents are worth or all their improvement is a dead loss. The farmers owning mineral lands should remember this.

In order that mining can be car ried on in Crittenden county the roads MUST be improved. Nothing gives a visitor in a new locali ty as good an impression as excellent roads. Now, my friends, having said what I thought to say on this life politically and personally has cabins. been a life of almost constant strife with the leaders of the southern people, yet as I grow older I have learned not only to respect and esteem, but to love the great qualities which belong to my fellow-citizens of the southern states They are a noble race. We may well take pattern from them in some of the great virtues which make up the strength as they make the glories of the free states. Their love of home, their chivalrous respect for women; their courage; their delicate sense of honor; their constancy, which can abide by an opinion or a purpose or an interest for their states through adversity and prosperity, through years and through the generations, are things by which the people of the more mercurial north may take a lesson. And there is another thing-covetousness, corruption, the low temptation of money, has not yet found any place in our southern politics.

Now, my friends, we can not afford to live, we don't wish to live and we do not live in a state of es trangement from a people who possess these qualities. They are friends of ours, born of our borning, flesh of our flesh, blood of them in subduing the forest and our blood, and whatever may be the temporary error of any southern state I, for one, if I have the right to speak for Massachusetts, say to her: 'Entreat me not to leave thee nor to turn from follow ing after thee; for where thou goest I will go, and where thou stayest I will stay also; and thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God."

JUDGE J. F. DEMPSEY.

One of the ablest and best men n official life in the State is Judge J. F. Dempsey, of Madisonville He has been railroad commission. er for two terms and has an accurate knowledge of the important duties of that now very important office, and he announces in this issue of the Press as a candidate for re-election, subject to the action of the Democratic primary May 9. Up to the time the Mc-Chord bill became a law in 1900, the commission was of Hopkins county, for Circuit Judge in the Fourth Judicial district, subject to the action of the Democratic party, lation that it was, in a great mealation that it was, in a great measure, powerless to check the encroachments of the railroads, and to prevent the discriminations and inequalities that are so often made and shown in freight rates. The passage of the McChord law cloth ed the commission with adequate powers, but shortly afterwards the roads went into the Federal court and succeeded in getting a perpetual injunction restraining the commission from putting its promissioners, as individuals, executed the necessary bonds, and appealed the matter to the Supreme court of the United States, and atter a long fight won—the Sudelicate. The law was enacted, not for the purpose of clothing the commission with power to haact as an arbitrator to see that fairness and justice was done both the people and the roads. This is a delicate task, calling for well balanced men, competent to handle the complex propositions that grow out of such large and varied interests in a vast territory, and the large capital invested in the railroads. AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

In the United States court at Frankfort, Judge Cochran handed down a decision holding that all land patents issued since 1852 in Kentucky for more than 200 acres are void, except in a few cases where authorized by special act of the legislature. The decision was rendered in a case involving over 40,000 acres of land in Harlan county. If sustained by the higher Federal Courts, it will be of far reaching importance, and it is be lieved will aid materially in the development of Eastern Kentucky where such patents have affected the validity of land titles.

To Pay State Debt.

The State Sinking Fund Commission met at Frankfort and decided to apply the money collected from the Government as interest on the war debt in redeeming outstanding bonds against the State. The action was taken on the votes of Gov. Beckham, Treasurer Hagar and Auditor Coulter, Attorney Oeneral Pratt opposing such use of the money. Governor Beckham and Auditor Coulter were delegated to ascertain whether the bonds can be purchased at their nominal value. Both Sense tors Blackburn and McCreary indorse the plan to wipe out the State debt with the money received from the Government

New York, January 12 .- All the members of the Kentucky State Railroad Commission arrived in New York tonight. Chairman Mc-Judge Pryor, for the State execu- Chord and his associates on the board brought with them Attorney General Pratt, and Col. Bennett Young.

Thursday they will summon as witnesses before the Interstate Commerce Commission in the Fed eral Building, J. Pierpont Morgan, John W. Gates, F. Bates, Geo W. Perkins, August Belmont Samuel Spencer, Charles Lanier, John I. Waterbury, Warren Delano, J. Elliott and a dozen other equally well known financiers.

J. P. Morgan and August Belmont have accepted service, along with others, and will go on the witness stand when called.

The Commission expects to prove by these witnesses its contention that a merger pact exists between the Louisville and Nashville railway, the Atlantic Coast Line, Illinois Central and Southern railway, and that it has for its object the elimination of competition among railroads throughout the entire South.

The testimony of J. P. Morgan is expected to be of especial value to the Commission, as he is cred ited with having managed the alleged big combination.

HIDDEN TREASURE.

One Thousand Dollars Found Webster County.

The Dixon Journal says: It is reported that James Mooney, of near Stanhope, this county, unearthed $1,000 in gold while digging post holes on the farm of Wm. Gardener, about eight miles southeast of Dixon. Gardener and Miss Blanche Franklin, our Mooney were working together, Rosebud organist, is talking of digging post holes. Gardener, going to Marion to take music working with a spade, was digging to where the dirt became hard and Joe M. Davis had a barn raising Mooney was following with a post hole digger, completing the holes. Gardener's attention was called by some reason to Mooney, who was down on his knees some five or six holes in the rear. Going to where Mooney was he (Gardener) A very respectable white man discovered that his employe had married a colored woman a few struck a gold mine and was taking days age, in the lower neighbor- $20 gold pieces from the unfinished post hole.
